SARIF INDUSTRIES, DETROIT, 2027.
HE WAS INJURED IN THE LINE OF DUTY, ENDED UP HEAVILY AUGMENTED. IT WARPED HIM PSYCHOLOGICALLY, TWISTED HIM UP INSIDE.
BY THE TIME HE CAME BACK ON THE FORCE, I'D BEEN MADE LEADER OF THE TEAM.
I THINK HE SAW IT AS SOME KIND OF BETRAYAL.
THEY PUT HIM IN CHARGE OF A NEW TEAM, BUT HE WENT BAD. BIG-TIME. CORRUPTED THE ENTIRE SQUAD.
WITHIN TWO YEARS, THEY'D KILLED THEIR WAY THROUGH HALF THE GANGSTERS IN DETROIT AND WERE PRETTY MUCH RUNNING THE UNDERWORLD.
IN THE AFTERMATH OF THE MEXICANTOWN RIOTS, THERE WAS A SHOOTOUT BETWEEN MY TEAM AND HIS.
IT WAS COVERED UP TO SAVE THE DEPARTMENT EMBARRASSMENT AND I RESIGNED FROM THE FORCE.
TILL LAST NIGHT, I THOUGHT I'D KILLED HIM...
NO SUCH LUCK.
EITHER THAT OR HE'S BACK FROM THE DEAD.
WITH A VENGEANCE.
next: ASSASSINATION RUN!

Dear DC Nation...

I was watching an old sitcom really late one night last week and the plot involved one of the characters getting tons and tons of fan mail. They were piling duffel bags of mail up to the ceiling in the kitchen and there was still more coming in literally by the truckload. I started laughing because I imagined my office looking very similar if all of the letters you guys have sent into our new letters columns weren't coming in by regular mail AND electronically. My point (besides that I stay up too late watching TV) is that our fans have made our lettercolumns a huge success beyond anything we could have hoped. You loyal DC Nation readers are writing in with all kinds of questions, observations, jokes and complaints...and it's awesome to see the passion you all have for our books, our talent and our characters. So I can't thank you guys enough – BUT – we're not done. There are still a lot of you out there who haven't written in, and even if you have written in, there is no reason to stop at one letter. And if you really love a book that you think isn't getting enough attention, you need to write in and say why more people should be reading. Please keep it going, DC Nation! I promise you that we read every single letter that we get, so your voice will be heard Before you run off to start your letter, let me just go over a few hints that will help increase your odds of getting it printed. First of all, please remember to put your name and city because without this information we won't print your letter. And fake names will also result in our not running your question. So unless you can prove that your legal name is Solomon Grundy, I'm not printing your Batman question. Also – please be as clear as you can when you write in. We'd love to respond, but that's kind of difficult if we're not sure what exactly we're supposed to be responding to. And finally to Nick from New York who wrote in more than once to simply say "Nice" about Superman, I'd like to respond, "Sweet, dude. Thanks!" All the info you need is below. We look forward to hearing from you soon.

Be seeing you
–Ian Sattler, DC Comics
